U. S. Woman Tells How She Saved Jewels From Black Sea Plunderer

New York—"Really, if their revolters had not been waded so maniacally, and their scowls appeared so bloodthirsty, I should have thought these picturesque Tartar bandits stepped out of the chorus of a comic opera."

Mrs. William N. Haskell, wife of the colonel of the old Sixty-ninth, gives this description of the 40 thieves who last May looted a treasure chest, saving from the Black Sea and Constantinople on which she was a passenger.

Colonel and Mrs. Haskell and their children arrived recently from Europe. Until his resignation several weeks ago, Col. Haskell for three years was allied high commissioner to Armenia. Mrs. Haskell worked in the interest of near east relief and fought a winning battle against typhus.

But her most thrilling adventure came during the raid by the 40 bandits who had hidden themselves on the steamer Soudra. She said: "At dusk I was in my state room. The low-lying Black sea coast was almost in sight. Suddenly there was a volley of shots and the ship was rocked. I saw the bandits in a flash. I tossed my rings in a basin and hid other valuables in a closet. A few seconds later two of the brigands stepped into the state room. They lined the chair and me against the wall and ordered me to give up my money and valuables."

"I motioned back that I was penniless. They waved their revolvers excitedly and then started to wreck the room. They smashed things up a bit—even my baby's toy bank. This yielded 40 pennies, which they stored away in their capacious pockets."

"I took all they could carry. "Others of the band had gone thoroughly through the ship, seizing everything they could carry away. Then they forced the captain to lower small boats and rowed to the shore. It was a tremendous relief."

Col. Haskell would not discuss political conditions abroad. But he said the United States had practically saved Armenia from a complete Turkish domination. He called Mrs. Haskell "Queen." While her husband aided the country in its governmental problems, she helped in feeding the starving and re-establishing home life.

Man Looked the Same in Day of Abraham

In the dim old days of the patriarch Abraham people looked much as they do now.

The oldest representation of human figures unearthed by the toiling brotherhood of archaeologists and striking figures, one standing and one seated, are included in the elaborate design of the clay seal, or "postage stamp," which has excited the enthusiasm of the University of Pennsylvania museum.

Dr. LeGrain has figured out the inscriptions of the tablet, which indicate that it dates from the period when "Ur of the Chaldees," mentioned in Genesis in connection with the history of Abraham, was a flourishing kingdom. And he finds reason to believe that the seated figure, decorated with fountains of beautiful coral, was the high priest of the temple, the last king of Ur, and probably an intimate friend of the Father of Israel.

To the modern eye both figures are amazingly well drawn and lifelike in attitude, especially the standing one, which is a very small seal, Dr. LeGrain thinks the tablet was a postage stamp on a sack of money forwarded to a banker named Shupak by his reverend father, the high priest of the temple of Ur, which Abraham worshipped.

They Were Efficient Business Men The Mesopotamians appear to have been strong on business efficiency. The clay tablets, which were inserted in envelopes of the same material, made to fit them, and their uniform characters were just as efficient as the modern "check" or "bill." Replying to your favor of recent date, am shipping you 10, 0, 0, and so forth. Having deposited the letter in the envelope, the writer would seal it with a wax or clay seal and save the writing from being torn off in transit.

Persons receiving letters generally threw away the envelope, which suggests a waste of paper and a lack of regard for the size and strength of their waste paper baskets, and the consequence of an unread letter in a sealed envelope. Perhaps the addressee did before it was delivered, or perhaps he threw it away unopened because he divided it up as a bill.

The professors wouldn't open it for anything, though they're naturally dying with curiosity to read it. If they opened it the exhibit would lose its uniqueness, for they could never seal it up again. You see, a Babylonian clay envelope was not nearly as handy as a modern paper envelope in case of an unread letter in a sealed envelope. ## CRITICS SAY UHL IS BEST BARITONE EVER HEARD HERE

Jerome Uhl, American baritone, made his first appearance in Janesville, Friday evening, at the Apollo club in song recital at the Methodist church. Many who heard his voice of exceptionally fine quality, today expressed themselves that he is the best baritone singer who has ever appeared in this city. At least he left an altogether pleasing remembrance with the large audience which applauded every number enthusiastically.

Mr. Uhl arranged an exceptional program commencing with a group of songs in French. Such interpretive skill was displayed in the recital that it was received as well as it sung, in a tongue understood by all of the audience. "Nuit de Juin" and "Après un Reve" were the most popular of the four.

Miss Edith Welch, Chicago, who has made her home in this city since last summer with her mother, Mrs. A. L. Welch, was received with a burst of applause by the audience. She had already attained somewhat of a reputation in this city as a violinist. "Hymn to the Sun" was her first number. Later in the evening she sang "The Swan" and "Spanish Dance" and "Hungarian Dance."

"Night," "Praise of Islay," and "Loch Lomond" constituted Mr. Uhl's second group. These songs in English and German were better known to the audience than the first group were received with favor. With a most ingratiating presence, a charming personality, and a well-toned sympathetic voice, Mr. Uhl injected much charm into these songs. His encore was "Supposin'" which with "A Planter's Ditty" and "Danny Deever" numbers of the last group demonstrated the artist's pleasing dramatic dialogue.

"Rememberance," "Doctor McGinnis," "The Love Song," "The War of Minnetonka" were songs in the last group. It was the latter however, an old time favorite, which was almost dramatically better known to the audience than the first group were received with favor. ## COUNCIL TO HEAR COAL PRICE REPORT

Report on New Ambulance and Bonding, Other Matters Coming Up.

Introduction of a $600,000 bonding ordinance to build the new high school, a report of the coal price committee, and a recommendation from the finance committee relative to a new ambulance for transporting contagious disease cases, are expected to be the features of the regular meeting of the council at the city hall at 8 o'clock Monday night. A volume of routine business is also listed.

The ordinance for the bond issue has been drawn up by City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham and approved by a Chicago legal firm. It will be introduced, and then read over a week for publication. It cannot be passed until January 27.

Ald. E. F. Kelly, as chairman of the special committee on coal prices, is expected to have some interesting figures concerning the local fuel situation. With the two other members, Aldermen Hill and Ransom, an extensive investigation has been made. The report is expected to include information relative to the sale of coal in Beloit and Milwaukee, which the Central Labor Council claims is selling for $15 and $17 a ton, the same as is being sold here for $20 and up.

The board of health at its last meeting voted to call upon the council to furnish an ambulance for carrying patients who are obliged to be moved to the hospital. When introduced to the council at the last regular meeting, the request was referred to the finance committee of which Ald. J. J. Dulin is chairman.

QUESTIONS Why are all importers and watch jobbers of SWISS BRACELET WATCHES Endeavoring to Unload them onto the Retail Jewelers?

Two Reasons: FIRST—Thousands of cheap Swiss Bracelet Watches have been imported since the war and the jewelers are loaded with watches that fail to keep time and give no end of trouble to the wearer. SECOND—There is a scarcity of American watches and many jewelers have been unable to get them for stock.

FULTON IS STRONG FOR COUNTY AGENT

67 Farmers There Ask County Board to Rescind Recent Action.

Fulton went on record last night for the county agent, after a long and a community meeting held in the town hall. A resolution was passed by 67 people, that the county board rescind its action of last week, and that the county agent be retained.

The Fulton meeting is typical of the attitude of the farmers toward the county agent. The meeting was held in the town hall, and was attended by 67 farmers. The meeting was held in the town hall, and was attended by 67 farmers. The meeting was held in the town hall, and was attended by 67 farmers.

Views on the county agent came out in a community debate between John Schofield, speaking for the agent, and William H. Gardner, who took the negative side. When arguments were advanced open discussion was held, with the result that the county agent was retained.

The farmers all agreed that the county agent was doing a good job, and that the county board should rescind its action of last week.

Speaking for the county agent, John Schofield outlined a series of farm improvements, and methods of increasing the productivity of the land. He then declared that the county agent is the only link to bring the best farming methods to the county.

Among the results declared to have been given to Rock county farmers were: new crops such as hemp and soy beans, improved seeds, improved methods of handling seeds, increased market value for farm products, standardized seed and feed and superior strains in stock.

Value to the farmers was declared to come from the agent's being a representative of the county, in selling farm stock and produce. He became a good booster and salesman in an effective way for the county and interstate offers for stock.

"Our county agent took an active part in stopping the cholera epidemic in Rock county. The county agent is here only to aid, but we must go after him and take advantage of it—not sit around and wait for him to be handed around on a gold platter."

Negative Arguments. William H. Gardner, who took the negative side, confined the arguments mostly to the neglect of the agent in meeting the individual needs of the farmer and in taking an active part in matters not connected with vital agricultural interests.

"We have no use for a man who functions in the court house and in the county board, but who does not get out of the county and get a farm expert whenever we need one. It is not right that the Farm Bureau enter into politics with the intention of forcing the county supervisors to rescind the action of last week. The county agent is here only to aid, but we must go after him and take advantage of it—not sit around and wait for him to be handed around on a gold platter."

and there we will come out of the 'little end of the horn.' The remark drew a round of applause and much laughter.

Prise for the county agent was made in the organization and furthering of the Farm Bureau. The agent put the bureau on its feet and has done a great part in putting it on its feet. We are going to hold the office of the county agent and stick to the Farm Bureau together if the farmer is going to get anywhere," said Knapp.

Knapp, who spoke in friendly terms of the Janesville Chamber of Commerce, believed there was an honest effort to help us on the farm," said Knapp. "It was shown in the promotion of the stock pavilion and we are strong enough not to let any city organization step on our toes. I believe the county agent has more than he can do and it is impossible to have him do more."

Women Interested. Several women declared that the agent had helped them in promotion of poultry raising and aided in making sales of chickens. When the vote was put by President J. E. Wallin the situation was clear. The vote was unanimous in favor of retaining the county agent.

The meeting was closed with talks on the new Farm Products company.

STATE TO BE LEADER IN AGRICULTURE IF NEW POLICY CARRIES

Madison—An agricultural policy which is believed will make Wisconsin a leader in the nation is expected to come out of the Get-Town-Market conference of every group interested in the development of Wisconsin's resources. The conference is being held at Madison, Wis., and is expected to last for several days. The conference is being held at Madison, Wis., and is expected to last for several days.

Training in the call for the convention is practically every organization of state-wide scope, including besides the College of Agriculture and the Wisconsin Division of Markets, the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation, the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association, the Wisconsin Pea Growers' association, the Wisconsin Bankers' association, and every other state supported agricultural organization, as well as the various orders and grain growers' associations.

The subjects to be considered in the course of the conference include possible legislation to make credits more readily available to the farmers, means of improving the transportation facilities of the state, and other problems of interest to the consumer and producer. Plans for the conference are being laid by officials of the various bodies represented.

Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, the one man in America who is said to know more about the world food conditions, next to Herbert Hoover, will be at the conference to give the information he has collected.

It is proposed to find out if anything can be done to straighten the road between the farm field and the family dinner table, one official said. True to expectations, farm prices have fallen and the consumer is still further spread apart. The farmers' prices are determined largely by world conditions. The prices paid by the consumer are too often artificially and locally controlled.

Hoboes Hit "Rattlers" in Search of Work; Many Are Seen Here

"Gentlemen of the Road," the "blueblows" of the railroad tracks, and the latest of the long stick with the tin can and the dkechlof of earthly belongings are hitting the long trail that leads to food for the hobo. In other words, the hobo is with us on more.

Have you seen that strange chalk mark on your back door of late? Haven't you had the un-given stranger with his tale of being thrown out of a fine job that paid big wages—have you seen a hobo with a cup of coffee and a smacker of cats?

After an absence of several years, almost since before the war, the hobo is back again. These fellows have not yet really got down to what we used to know as tramps, that is, they are on the highways that lead to that condition.

"Hoppers" Coming In. Janesville is the city look-up, but it is not the only one. The hobo is coming in from all over the country. The hobo is coming in from all over the country. The hobo is coming in from all over the country.

Men out of work are looking for a place to sleep. The hobo is coming in from all over the country. The hobo is coming in from all over the country. The hobo is coming in from all over the country.

EXPERT ON INCOME TAX WILL SPEAK

Sprague Sent Here to Talk at C. of C. Luncheon Monday.

To convey to income tax payers of Janesville definite advice and instructions regarding the procedure in levying federal taxes, W. H. Sprague, chief deputy for Wisconsin of the collection of internal revenue, will address the members of the Chamber of Commerce at their bi-weekly luncheon here at the Myers hotel at 12:10 Monday.

Handling thousands of cases of delinquencies and penalties of taxpayers each year, Mr. Sprague is in a position to know the common errors and misunderstandings that the taxpaying public of Wisconsin suffers.

The visit of Mr. Sprague here was arranged by L. O. Holman, manager of the chamber with Burt Williams, collector of internal revenue for Wisconsin. He will come for the purpose of making enforcement of the federal tax laws with the least possible friction.

Mr. Sprague's address will take up the following: He will answer questions for the chamber, his office and its functions. 1. Its relation to the department at Washington. 2. Its relation to taxpayers of Wisconsin. 3. Object of new division office system.

II. Growth of direct federal taxation. III. General Classification of federal taxes. 1. Income taxes. 2. Excise taxes. 3. Estate taxes. 4. Capital stock taxes. Group taxes. 1. Special taxes (occupational taxes, admissions and utility taxes). 2. Stamp taxes.

IV. Fundamentals every business man should know about special taxes. V. Fundamentals every business man should know about monthly taxes. VI. Penalties and procedure connected therewith. 1. Special penalties. 2. A valorem penalties. 3. Power of commissioner to compromise. VII. Claims and procedure connected therewith. 1. Three kinds of claims: a. Refund claims. b. Abatement claims. c. Credit claims. 2. Effect of abatement claims. 3. Restriction of claims for credit and why. 4. Importance of clear statement of facts in affidavit. 5. Credits for overpayments on monthly returns.

Launch Move to Stop Vets from Wearing O. D.'s

If the department of justice has its way the world war veteran is going to receive a severe jolt in the excessive cost of clothing—for he has got to discard most of the O. D. issue stuff he kept.

The department is making a country wide effort to prevent indiscriminate wearing of army and navy uniforms by enforcing the provisions of the national defense act. They aim to establish a common sense policy to abolish wearing of certain parts of the uniform.

Hence they seek to stop the buddies handing around uniform buttons—if he has any left after the last inspection and raid of the "mad-messies" for epaulettes, cap ornaments, insignia of rank and grade, hat cords, overcoats of either branch of service, or the wearing apparel of nurses.

Other articles of clothing not considered as "distinctive parts" are: coats, suits, hats, shoes, shirts, breeches, leggings, shoes, boots, raincoats, and the old blue denim fatigue clothes, may be worn with impunity. It is claimed complaints are received that paupers and peddlers are wearing parts of the uniform to strengthen their tale of woe about the service.

Hence it may become a law that "distinctive parts" and others of the uniform in their original light of handling out their cute little gold bars to every pretty maid. Also the service men are not to wear the "distinctive parts" of the uniform.

CAID OF THANKS. We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father. Also givers of the many floral offerings, and Rev. Melrose for his kind, comforting words.

LEGION CAMPAIGNS TO GET U. S. AID FOR STRICKEN SOLDIERS

Rock county members of the American Legion are interesting themselves in the aggressive campaign of the national organization to aid stricken soldiers.

Cases are to be investigated by each legion post in this county and backing given the demands of the national committee to be made before the new congress for adequate relief.

The recommendations that are to be made will embrace the innovations of medical cases and more attention to men under the federal board. Janesville veterans, several in number, have been on the waiting list to be admitted in the Chicago Public Service hospital in Chicago for some time. The hospital is overcrowded and it has developed there are cases of Rock county soldiers needing attention in a government hospital.

The overlapping and inefficiencies of the three government bureaus, the vocational bureau, public health service, and war risk insurance, are to be eliminated by proposed legislation.

CASHIER OF M. & S. BANK RESIGNS TO GO TO MILWAUKEE

S. M. Smith, vice president and cashier of the Merchants & Savings bank here, has resigned to become first vice-president and treasurer of a newly organized finance corporation backed by 20 of the leading bankers of Wisconsin. His resignation is effective the first part of January when he will assume his new duties. No successor has been chosen.

He was elected to his post in the new concern at a meeting held in Milwaukee, Friday. A name for the company has not been chosen. It has an authorized capital stock of $500,000 with authority to commence business on $250,000 paid in. Already $275,000 has been subscribed by 20 bankers of the state.

Temporary offices of the new company will be in the First National bank building, Milwaukee. H. A. Moehlepp, formerly of the Wisconsin Trust & Savings company of Chicago, prior to that he was the first secretary of the state bank commission. He will be one time a member of the firm of Whitehead, Macheson and Smith. From 1897 to 1900, he was secretary of the Wisconsin State bank. He is a member of the Janesville board of education.

MOTORISTS CRASH INTO TRAIN; 5 HURT

(By Associated Press.) Milwaukee, Dec. 11.—Five persons were hurt, three probably fatally, when their automobile crashed into a limited Milwaukee road freight train at a crossing. All of the injured, two men and two women, live at Hartford. They were brought to Milwaukee on the train and rushed to a hospital.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO TELL EXPERIENCES AT TWO CONFERENCES

A union service of the children of the Sunday school of the Congregational church at 7:30 Sunday evening. Reports on the older boys' and girls' conferences at Madison and Oshkosh will be discussed by delegates from Janesville, who attended.

The program is as follows: Song service led by the choir of the Y. M. C. A.; scripture reading, Marie Hughes; prayer, by boy and girl; song, "The Faith of Our Fathers"; quartet, "In the Garden"; "Ten Years Ago," William Miller, a report of address delivered by Dr. John Timothy Stone; "Young People's Department," Genevieve Jensen; "Singing Songs to Character," Mrs. Shurtliff; "Training Leadership," Helen Yates; "Value of Organized Sunday School Classes to the Church," Charles Jones; "Fruitful Results of Conference Work in the Sunday School," Mildred Look; "Dead Empires—Live Boys," Ronald Meyer; address, E. P. Hocking, secretary Rock County Sunday school association; benediction, Rev. Charles Scribner. Rehearsal of songs which will be sung will be held at the Y. M. C. A. for the boys at 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

NO SPECIAL MAIL PERMITS ISSUED

No one Janesville business house has taken advantage of law which provides for mailing of first class matter without stamps according to Postmaster J. J. Cunningham. The law which was passed April 24 of this year, provides for mailing of first class matter without stamps for at least 500 pieces of mail. A permit must be obtained from Washington through the local postmaster. A special stamp is used with a serial numbering device. The letters are taken to the postoffice and paid for by the number of letters which are mailed. This saves both time for the mailer and the government the time and money in printing the stamps which would otherwise be used. The reason that local concerns have not used this according to Mr. Cunningham, is that the changing of dates of the numbering device is too much trouble for the amount of first class matter sent at one time.

FIFIELD INSTALLS NEW COAL CRUSHER

So that the public may be supplied more regularly with hard coal of chestnut size for base burner use, the Fifield Lumber company of this city has installed a coal crusher to crush coal. By its use, grate size hard coal, which is easier to get than chestnut, will be brought here and crushed in the Fifield elevator to a size averaging 1 1/2 inches. This method has been decided upon because of the anthracite shortage. It is explained by the company, although the product will not be so even in size as that produced at the mines, but will be free from slate.

Express Business Flat, Many Employees Released

(By Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 11.—Working forces of the American Railway Express company are being reduced throughout the country because of a general slump in business. It was announced today at the company's headquarters here. How many of the thousands of the company's employees are affected could not be learned. "Business is flat all over the United States," said an official, "and there would be something wrong with our business if men were not released. It is necessary to proper economy."

HINTS GIVEN FOR HOLIDAY MAILING

With Christmas less than two weeks away, packages for shipment to distant cities should be sent next week. "If the people will cooperate with us by the observance of the following simple rules in mailing parcels, much time will be saved," said Postmaster J. S. Cunningham.

1. Mail packages early, depending on the distance.
2. Tie packages extra securely.
3. Address mail legibly and in ink.
4. Have return address on all mail and print in corner away from address and in smaller letters.
5. Do not send cards with tinseled or other rough surfaces unless they are enclosed in an envelope.
6. Separate postcards in two groups, and tie with rubber band those going to people in city and outside city.
7. Red Cross seals on packages should be placed on back of packages.

Two extra clerks will be required at the local postoffice beginning Dec. 18 until after the first of the year to handle the holiday mail.

The Story of a Woman's Transformation
BY MARION RUBINCAM

CHAPTER XVIII THE GIRL REVEALS

It was curious that the day after her own clumsy experiment with cosmetics—called by some the far-look hope of the aging—I should find Violet looking so different. I noticed that her hair was combed; I knocked and she admitted me.

"But why do you do it?" I asked her. "And where do you get the cream?"

"Violet laughed a little, her cheeks pink because she was discovered. 'Oh, one of the girls in my class. She uses it all the time and gave me some.'"

"But you're so pretty, and so young. You don't need these things. You're too young for them—just as I'm too old."

"Now, Aunt Enid," Violet protested, "you're not too old. You only think you are because Mother keeps saying so, and because Laura's a cut. As for powder and cold cream, all the girls use them. But Mother would positively howl if she knew I did, and she wouldn't give me the money anyway. Now, is there any harm in a woman making herself as beautiful as possible?"

She turned on me dramatically as she said it. At least it would have been dramatic if she had not had a very end of her nose. As it was, her speech was funny, and I laughed, the first carefree laugh I think I had enjoyed for years. Violet, turning to her mirror, began to laugh too. Then, wiping the stuff from her skin—whichever it was—she began to comb her hair, and put on a fresh frock, talking all the time.

"The trouble is, we're teased," she said. "We're teased. Mother keeps telling you you are old and homely—and you are when you do your hair the way she does and she dresses out in the funny fashion she cuts hers. She keeps telling me I am young and foolish—and she's told me that so long we both believe so we are."

She waved her brush to emphasize this. Then, collaring her wonderful gold hair into a knot on her head, she went on:

"So we've got to get away. You know what she wants—she wants to marry you off to that odious Mr. Uphorn, and then, after she marries Laura to Charlie, she'll pick some nice prosperous young farmer—"

"All the scorn of not yet 18 was in her voice. 'Aunt Enid, you aren't going to marry Jack Uphorn? Why, he's 40 or more, and as big around as—'

"He hasn't asked me," I began mildly. Besides, he's only five years older than I am, my dear. And I'm old—look at me!"

"You wouldn't be if you got away from here. It's the headlines of this town. I can't breathe in it. She gave a jerk at her dress to convince me of this. There was a rattling of the knocker. Mother came in—she never knocked. She looked at us suspiciously."

"What are you up to now?" she asked. "Why, I see you two with your heads together. I know you're up to something. We're going to live next fall, when we go to the city. Vi answered quickly."

"I'll bet you are," Mother said with heavy sarcasm. "I can see you having a hard time. Well, that's what I wanted to talk about anyway. I don't think Enid can go. It's burst out from Vi before she thought. It was an unfortunate remark. Mother's heavy jaw looked heavy at once."

"But you said I could go, and I can't if she doesn't," Vi said. The red spots that meant anger or determination or excitement flew to her cheeks.

"Well, we've been talking it over, Jim and I, and we've decided you can go alone, after all," Esther said. "My heart sank. I felt dead, dull years closing over me suddenly. Every year decided," Esther went on, "that Enid needs her money for other things. We don't think it would be right to take it. No, we've decided to interrupt—that's your money, and I won't touch it, nor let Violet do so either. You're to stay here, where you've got a good home, until maybe you get a home of your own, as I pray the Lord you will."

There was a sound from Vi, but Esther went on. "Vi will be perfectly safe. It's a girl's college, and they're well looked after, and there are hundreds of them do it every year, as Vi herself said. And Jim and I can scrape along and manage to spare the money to put her through for a year or two."

The assurance that she at least was to go did not mollify Violet. She drew herself up stiff, and faced her mother, her eyes purple with anger.

"You mean you want to keep her here to help do the work without getting paid for it, while you pretend to give her a good home, so she'll be here when Laura marries—"

"If she does. You mean to keep her here until you can force that hideous old gargoyle Mark Uphorn to marry her. He'll do it to save paying wages to a housekeeper, and he wouldn't be thankful to her at that."

Enid thought he was condescending to marry her, because she's poor and not a young girl. Maybe you think you're being nice and unselfish. Please advise me. You're—"

Enid had risen, and the two faced each other with eyes blazing. Monday—The Girl Helps write to me. Since my return I have had nothing from him. Do you think he could have written and the letter got lost? Or do you think he no longer cares for me? Please advise me. Shall I write to him or try to forget him, which seems utterly impossible?

BROKEN HEARTED. "Out of sight, out of mind" seems to be the answer to your problem. Do not write to the young man and try to forget him. As soon as you put him out of your mind, he will find new interests and will be happy again.

ANXIOUS. Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please suggest an appropriate Christmas present for a gentleman friend. If you are not engaged, a book or home-made candy would be most appropriate as a Christmas remembrance.

INDIAN SQUAWS OPPOSE LEAGUE. Twenty-five thousand Indian squaws voted this year, which means that most of them voted for Harding and Coolidge.

Mrs. Buffalo Bear, wife of a famous chief of the Sioux, is one of the most prominent among Republican Indian women. She attended the council meeting held at Deer Grove park in Chicago recently, at which fourteen tribes were represented, and bitterly denounced the league of nations on the ground that Article X would mean that the United States must humiliate itself to Great Britain. Buffalo Bear is a grandson of the famous chief Red Cloud and as a small boy witnessed the Custer massacre.

Alice M. Robertson of Muskogee, Okla., Republican candidate for congress, is without a doubt the most popular woman among Indians. Her services to her people, wonderful patriotism, absolute integrity and honesty of purpose have all combined to endear her to the hearts of her people. She was born at Tallahassee, Fla., sixty-six years ago and has always lived in Oklahoma with the exception of a few years spent in the east while receiving her education.

It is not good for man to live alone unless he wants to save money.

civil employee and not enlisted in the army.

Miss Lang, however, filed her application under the provisions of the naturalization law which permit members of the army or navy who served during the war and who were honorably discharged to become citizens without making the usual declaration of intention and waiting two years before their cases were heard. Miss Lang served with the A. E. 13 months, having been sent from San Francisco to France.

New Evening Coiffures Must Show Fancy Combs and Other Ornaments

By ELOISE.

If one is going to wear the half piled high, one must have a large small woman favor this mode for it adds to their height, it is smart and effective to build it up into a large curved comb of tortoise shell as illustrated at the left. This gives a long slenderizing effect to the face as well.

Other ornaments are popular, but the jeweled bander. Is second only to the Spanish comb this season.

This type of hair ornament may be worn with bobbed hair, but it was originally meant for the fancy collar. The hair-dress at the right shows a bandeau of brilliants with a spread eagle design worn in the center of the crown.

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

DEAR JOE:

The new nursemaid, Nora, continues to trip over the furniture and rugs as if she has no other object in life. I guess I better can before she does some actual damage to the baby, though reliable nursemaids are among the hardest things to find, although still you can't hardly call a professional tripper reliable, can you, Joe?

If she does actually fall with the baby I hope for your personal peace of mind it won't be over a rug, because you may remember you promised a hundred times to tack down those rugs, but the promises just fall on empty air. No, that I'm knocking or anything, Joe, I just want you to prepare for the worst in case it happens to be a rug.

The baby, personally is in the cream of health and if he would only come across with a tooth now my first objection would be removed. Goodness, Joe, a terrible thought just came over me! Suppose the baby was to have a tooth after all this unsuccessful expectation and suppose just when it came the light of day Nora should trip over something avoidable and fall with him and knock it right out again! If it was a rug that caused that accident I don't think I'd ever forgive you, Joe. Well, there's no use killing our chickens before they're hatched, so let's worry about something else. Still I guess I better can that girl. An ounce of prevention in time saves nine.

Did you read about Dempsey sending a wireless message to Carpenter on board the ship going home to Paris wishing him a safe journey? I consider that real sweet and thoughtful of Dempsey, don't you, Joe? Though of course as Mrs. Pink says it may only go to show how anxious he is that nothing don't happen to Carpenter before he gets him in the ring and make everything happen to him that he possibly can, and in the case of the wireless message was nothing but sheer selfishness. The paper said Carpenter took a million francs home with him, and even if francs have deteriorated on account of the war I guess a million of them is no mere bag of shells even in France where francs are so common. With love and so long, TESSIE.

are tender, but still whole and perfect.

Remove the cover, put a teaspoon of sugar in the center of each apple and sprinkle sugar over the peeled surface. Put under the flame in the broiler or at the top of a very hot cooking range until the sugar has melted and the peeled section is a light shade of brown. Basting once or twice during this process make them look as if they had been varnished with clear melted sugar.

If the apples are to be used as the main breakfast or luncheon dish, instead of cooking with sugar, the cavities may be stuffed with sausage and baked in the usual manner, or they may be made into an omelet.

Apple Sauce Cake.—One cup of unsweetened apple sauce, one-half cup of melted shortening, one cup of sugar, two cups of flour, one cup of seeds, and chopped raisins, one teaspoon of soda, one-quarter teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of cinnamon, one-half teaspoon of nutmeg, one-quarter teaspoon of cloves. Sift together the dry ingredients, then add the apple sauce and melted shortening. Pour all into a deep greased pan and bake in a slow oven for one hour.

WAYS TO USE APPLES. Glaze Baked Apples.—Wash and core large, red, firm apples. Peel the mabout one-third of the way down from the stem end; then place a half in a casserole which has a cover. Make a syrup, using one cup of sugar, to one and one-half cups of water for six apples, and boil six minutes. Pour syrup over the apples, cover them and place in a medium hot oven. Baste the apples occasionally with the syrup until they are tender, but still whole and perfect.

Wild Game. Woodchuck or Groundhog.—Also the best way of cooking rabbits.—Wash, clean thoroughly and cut into pieces. Let stand in salted water several hours or overnight.

Put into deep frying pan a generous amount of shortening (lard and butter mixed is best). Let this get hot, and into it place the pieces of woodchuck or rabbit, salt and pepper; let fry a few minutes and turn pieces. Then add a small amount of water, cover pan and let cook until done, turning pieces and adding water as it cooks down. Lastly, when done, remove cover and

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: There is not a day passing that has not in it some unhappiness for me. I have never had a completely happy day in my life while at home. Can you advise me what to do?

I am married and my husband lives with us. I have also a younger sister who is petted and spoiled. She gets everything she wants and I am obliged to do without.

Brother-in-law does everything possible to make me unhappy. My sister does something which turns out wrong she blames me, and I deny it her husband says I lie and my parents believe him.

I am by no means a bad character and have never done anything bad, but still when I meet them on the street he will not allow my sister to speak to me. They have been married since March and since their marriage he has never spoken a civil word to me.

I am supposed to be a sophomore in high school this year, but no longer go to school. My mother wishes me to work and earn my own way, but I am unable to find a position because of my age. I am not allowed to go to a different and larger city to work, as I should like to.

I have often thought of leaving home, but I have neither the money nor the courage to go. It is not my love for home that keeps me here, but I would have no place to go and would not know what to do in another city.

Will you please advise me what to do?

ROSALIND. Look for happiness. What one of us, do you think, has a day which does not bring its unhappiness? The person to be admired is the one who catches every bit of sunshine and keeps it upmost in her mind in order to forget the conditions of misery in which she lives.

If you keep a brave heart for a year or two longer, you will be able to find a position as nurse maid, while you are too young to work in an office. Later other opportunities will present themselves to you if you are on the lookout and ready to receive them.

It would be interesting to see how brave you can be. When your

Make it a Stag Party.

"Dear Rosalind, your husband wants to entertain the men in his store, but there are two girls and he is afraid they will feel hurt if they are not taken into consideration. He is doing something for them, too, but he thinks the men will have a better time if the girls don't come. What do you think?—An Employer's Wife."

Why not let your husband invite the men to a stag party, and then the next evening you invite the two young women to dinner at your home and to the theater or motion picture show afterwards? If Saturday afternoon is a holiday with you, ask them to be your guests then and for tea afterwards at some nearby tea room.

A Woman's Privilege. "Dear Miss Page—Will you settle this question for us? Should a girl ask a man to call on her or should she wait until he asks to come?"—The D. O. D. Girls."

The custom differs in various parts of the country, I believe, and it is always wise when in Rome to do as the Romans do, you know.

Generally speaking, however, a man may ask a married woman for permission to call upon her and her family, but should wait for an invitation to call from an unmarried woman—or her mother, if she be a very young woman. This is to protect a woman from being placed in the embarrassing position of having to refuse an undesirable acquaintance.

If the woman only suggests that a man may call, however, without mentioning any particular time, he should not consider this an invitation at all, but merely a formal courtesy upon which part which gracefulness probably demanded at the moment. And, on the other hand, if a man should in the slightest way evade her invitation, a woman must of course refrain from any suspicion of intrigue.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Page in care of the "What Shall I Do?" department will be answered in these columns in the future. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So a person or persons who are interested in the department should send a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the questions.

Terrific Attending Industrial Baseball Meet at Chicago

GET READY FOR BIG 1921 YEAR WITH NEW PLAN

Future of the Central Industrial Baseball League, the working organization with which the Semson Tractors are affiliated, will be taken up at a meeting of the club managers and factory representatives to be held at the Semson ball house, Chicago, at 6 o'clock tonight. A banquet will be held followed by a business session. The Semson ball team left this morning to attend.

Twelve League Plan.
Among other matters will probably come up the proposed plan of forming two leagues of the members of the parent body, one for Wisconsin, and one for Illinois. It is also proposed that the Wisconsin league would play separate from the Illinois and a post season series would be held in world series.

Those in Attendance.
While not members of the league, it is expected that managers of the teams of the Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan leagues, both of Chicago, will be around the lobby. It is gossip that they may be asked to join the organization.

Final Olympic Athletes.
Reach U. S. from Europe
New York, Dec. 11.—Five members of the American Olympic team, last to return to the United States, reached here Thursday.

Faculty Five Trounces Juniors On Basketball Floor, 24 to 14

By reason of defeating the junior class basketball team, 24 to 14, Friday afternoon, the faculty captured the championship laurels of Janesville high. It is a long time since the "profs" had managed to score a victory. Last year they lost 19 to 12 to the juniors.

Wolfe Is Star
It was largely through the lightning work of Wolfe that the teachers got their win. Made up of a greased flash that took him to all parts of the floor back of the ball, he kept the juniors in dread from the start. He played more points along than the entire aggregation, sending seven field goals through the basket and caging a free throw. Wolfe was constantly eluding the attempts of Lane to guard him, calling out of the way with ease.

Amid the shrieks of the feminine student body and the cheers of the boys, the game was a rough and tumble battle. Had all fouls been called, it would have been going on yet. Both sides were free and giving with the rough stuff.

First Quarter Exciting
The first quarter was close. For the student body and the cheers of the boys, the game was a rough and tumble battle. Had all fouls been called, it would have been going on yet. Both sides were free and giving with the rough stuff.

The final quarters brought the juniors to a better performance. They held the faculty to five points while they made five themselves, but they still failed to return to team work. At the end of the third quarter, the faculty was ahead 24 to 14. Wolfe, who showed well at guard, though inclined to be rough, was the best player. He exchanged places several times with Candy.

Comment on Juniors
For some reason, the juniors lost their confidence. None of the men played the same kind of playing as when they won from the seniors. McDermott was pulled in the third quarter and Kelly showed in, but it was bad judgement on the part of the team captain. It would have been better to pull Lane and put Kelly in his place. Kelly displayed better fingers, although he tried hard enough. Grider featured as the junior star, playing the best all round game as a running guard.

Lineup and score:
Juniors: McDermott, Kelly, Grider, Wolfe, Lane, Bassford, Goss, Substutz, McDermott 1; Grider 1; Wolfe 2; Kelly 1; Lane 3; Goss 1; Bassford 1; Reynor 1.
Faculty: Wolfe, Kelly, Grider, Wolfe, Lane, Bassford, Goss, Substutz, McDermott 1; Grider 1; Wolfe 2; Kelly 1; Lane 3; Goss 1; Bassford 1; Reynor 1.

Complete Reorganization Starts In Biggest of Baseball Meetings

(By Associated Press)
New York, Dec. 11.—The greatest convention of baseball interests ever assembled in this country, involving a program for complete reorganization of the sport's government, got under way here today. Overhauling all other problems facing the representatives from all professional branches of the "national game," was the formulation of a new national agreement. The sessions will continue several days, under the presidency of Judge K. M. Landis, newly appointed head of the sport.

EXPECT ARREST IN COAST SCANDAL

(By Associated Press)
Los Angeles, Dec. 11.—Arrest and arraignment were expected here today in the case of at least one of the four men indicted on charges of criminal conspiracy late yesterday by Los Angeles grand jury, after an inquiry of two months into charges of corruption in Pacific Coast league baseball games in the 1919 season.

Barton in Los Angeles.
Barton believed to be in Los Angeles where he has been employed recently by a motion picture company. Maggert is in business in Berkeley, Calif., and under jurisdiction of California tribunals.

The men are charged with having conspired to "throw" games in the final Salt Lake Vernon series in Los Angeles in the 1919 season. The grand jury's indictments cleared the Vernon team of 1919 of charges made by Barton that his team was joined in subscribing to a $200,000 "pool," with which to "buy" enough games to win the pennant and that a Los Angeles "fan fund" of $2,500 for the Los Angeles or Vernon team, whichever won the pennant, had been put to illegal use.

Admitted Bribe.
Barton, whose charges resulted in the investigation, made several "demands" for the inquiry before official action was taken. He contended it would clear him of charges of gambling, which resulted in his suspension. He admitted, however, he had offered bribes to a number of players on various teams in the league.

SAMMIES PRAISED BY CHICAGO WRITER
With a two-column picture and a snappy writeup, the Chicago Journal comes out with a peppy writeup about the Samson Tractors. The story gives lots of credit to George Perry, formerly manager of the Chicago Gunthers, for putting such a club in the field in so short a time. It says that the team beat Janesville on the map and adds that the "Sammies" can be classed among the best of the semi-pro aggregations in the country. "Bill" Lathrop is mentioned for his 22 game string of wins.

Boxing Notes

CONFLICT STARTED OVER HIGH TAXES

Congress and Secretary of the Treasury Disagree—To Pare Estimates.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—Secretary Houston has decided to ignore the attack made upon him by Representative Claude Kitchin, democratic of North Carolina, who thinks the tax plans announced by the treasury department are too easy on the big corporations. There's a suspicion in the treasury circles that Mr. Kitchin, who boasted when the present tax laws were considered that he voted for them with his eyes shut, also failed to read the report of the secretary of the treasury. For the wall that is coming in from the big corporations is quite the contrary—they insisted Mr. Houston is too hard on them.

Houston's Attitude.
The secretary of the treasury, who is not a politician and cares much less about party politics than any man in the government, is in the same position as the average neutral who used to be called pro-German by the British and pro-British by the Germans. He is the most that the treasury department in reply to the agitation about the proposed tax revision is a suggestion that the report be carefully read.

Instead of proposing an increase in taxes, Mr. Houston insists that he has recommended a reduction in the total amount that the American people should pay. For instance, the people paid an aggregate of six billions the year before last and something over five billions last year. Now they are asked to pay in the neighborhood of four billions.

What the Secretary Said.
The secretary of the treasury proceeded on the theory that on account of the slump in business conditions there wouldn't be enough money available for the government through the excess profits taxes. But he didn't suggest that the excess profits tax be repealed and nothing put in its place.

Mr. Houston proposes that the substitute taxes shall place a uniform burden on all classes of business, namely that corporations alone shall not be taxed but that partnerships, sole proprietors and other concerns that are not legal entities should participate in the tax program so that the amount taken from business as a whole shall be approximately the same as before.

Picking Things to Tax.
As for the consumption tax, Mr. Houston points out that we already have taxes on wearing apparel, soft drinks and other articles consumed in every day life. His recommendations are that some of them be abolished and certain others taxed more.

The point is that if congress accepts the proposed budget, of four billions of dollars, the painful fact is that existing laws may not be sufficient in view of business conditions to yield that sum even though the same laws have in the past yielded five and six billions of dollars in two different years. So Mr. Houston felt it to be his duty to list all the various ways by which revenue could be raised.

The fact that complaint has come from some of the interests which would be affected by some of these suggestions is the inevitable result of mentioning them. Nobody wants to have an increase in taxes and of course members of congress will be pressed by their constituents to resist any taxes that put a burden on the influential business men in their respective communities. So if the tax question is viewed from the local eyes, the treasury department will be under constant bombardment but not only under this administration but the next one, too. If the question is examined through national eyes, the total amount paid by the American people will be seen as less than any previous year.

Knock Off a Billion.
Is four billions however the minimum amount on which the government can get along? Republican leaders say they can knock a billion dollars off the estimates submitted by the treasury for the coming year. But the treasury calls attention as did President Wilson to the congressional habit of making appropriations out of revolving funds. More than a billion dollars was spent last year in that way and the estimates had been pared down by a billion dollars. Probably the adoption of a budget system and the making of all appropriations directly will cure this fault in government finance but until it comes congress may be in the position of taking a billion dollars off a billion and a half and finding the same billion eventually on a list of expenditures.

How It is Divided.
To get relief from taxation it will be necessary not merely to reduce the estimates but to prevent indirect appropriations. Moreover an analysis of how Secretary Houston made up his budget of four billions shows that one and one third billions go to pay interest on Liberty bonds and other public debt. Another billion is wanted by the military establishment which includes plans for such things as universal military training and the maintenance of a fair sized army—cost $133,000,000. The railroads will cost in the neighborhood of a billion dollars and it used to cost the government just a billion dollars to run in pre-war days. At that the government will face a deficit on outstanding debts. Pruning government department estimates will help some but it is not believed the general total that must be raised by taxation will be sufficiently reduced to be left by the public at large no matter whether the Houston plans or those of the next administration are adopted. For in a nutshell, some individuals may fare better and others worse but the total must be about the same as Mr. Houston suggests simply because that is the amount the government must have to pay its bills.

MILTON MAN GIVES HINTS ON HIGHWAY BUILDING, UPKEEP

Suggestions for the building and upkeep of good roads are given by Judson Dwight Merrill to the Gazette. He states "as the vast majority of country roads can never be concreted, for many generations, if at all, hence the total road should be constructed of other material, which is most easily available, viz: rock binder and a clay filler is of course greatly in excess on our country roads. With our motor driven vehicles the constant digging of the wheels makes dust and mud. Oil would remedy this condition, but as all roads cannot have oil, what then? Of times we see motorists travelling on the side of the road, the path of least resistance where the bed is hard, as the mud and dirt has been pulled back into the center of the road and all up the holes. In the old days a four-foot travelling grade was maintained and many were stuck in the mire. Only a 22-foot road should be maintained.

22-Foot Road Bed.
"All travel on country roads must be restricted to a road bed not to exceed 22 feet, even if authorities have not yet whitened posts on the sides to keep them in the road. There should be no trouble to keep travel where it belongs if the roads are properly crowned, crowned and drainage maintained. When the public travels in the road proper and when the road man gets the ditches dug out and the sides nicely graded, then let nature work.

"The sun and the rain, falling on the road by the wayside, turn it over up to the crown of the road, and this not only lays the dust but holds the road where it belongs. When the road bed is properly crowned with clay and stone and much care taken the clay filler used does not exceed the rock binder.

"Because the crown must have all the crushed stone or gravel which the clay can socket, well rolled, and the top surface must have also an excess of crushed or small stone. When the road surface becomes uneven or depressions occur, it should immediately be surfaced with crushed stone.

Roads in Politics.
"If roads are in politics and a town has nothing but a political steam roller, by all means run it with a double head of steam before and on election day. Get men, real men, with grey matter under their hats, men who can lift the body of politics out of the mire. Let one, two, three or four men construct or even care for properly the roads of a township of 36 square miles. Competent men, who must have road extensions, must be stationed on their jobs in different parts of the township. With the work of the road man wide open for inspection, it is up to the traveling public to do its part. Keep in the middle of the road and off the sides and out of the ditches if you want to help in bettering the roads.

WILLOWDALE.
[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Willowdale, Wis., Dec. 11.—James Crane, Janesville, called at his farm here Tuesday. Miss Kathryn Mooney underwent a successful operation for appendicitis at Mercy hospital, Wednesday morning. Miss Estelle Tierman was a guest of friends here Sunday. Miss Alice Carroll spent Wednesday with Mrs. Dell Gun, in the town of Rock. Leo Mooney returned home Wednesday after spending several weeks in Florida. Will Mooney, Janesville, spent Sunday at the parental home. Mr. and Mrs. John Cleveland and son, Ray, were entertained by relatives in Beloit Sunday. Carl Meyer was pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening by 40 of his friends, in honor of his birthday. Dancing was enjoyed, and a lunch served. A purse of money was presented to Carl. Miss Josephine Mooney was the guest of Mrs. Floyd Mable, Janesville, Friday. Miss Frances Condon spent the week-end at her home in the town of Porter. W. R. Bleasdale and son, Hector, transacted business in Janesville Tuesday. Miss Catherine Korwin Madison, is the guest of Mrs. Clarence Finley for a few days. Mike Coffey has returned from a few days' visit in Green county. Mrs. Mooney spent Sunday in Stouten.

Our Big Christmas Savings Club

It Answers This Puzzling Question:

Did You Have Enough Money to Spend This Christmas?

Were you able to do all the little things you would like to have done? Were all your family, friends and associates remembered this Holiday season just as you would have wished? Wouldn't a little extra money have come in handy?

You Will Want Money to Spend Next Christmas. You Can Have Plenty If You Join Our Christmas Savings Club, Starting Monday, December 27, 1920

A Check Which You May Cash Anywhere Will Be Mailed To Your Home Next December.

Join Yourself. Get Your Friends to Join. Everybody Welcome. No Charge to Join.

Start to save now for next Christmas. The Christmas Savings Club will be comprised of a number of members who will save with the object of having money for next Christmas. The plan of saving as we have evolved it is exceedingly simple and easy. Make a small deposit each week or pay a month in advance and when the club matures next December you will be agreeably surprised at the snug little sum you have accumulated, made larger by interest added. Plans to suit every purse are offered depositors. Everybody welcome. Here are three plans that will appeal to a good many people.

Deposit 1c the first week and increase the deposit 1c each week and we will pay you $12.75 with interest next Christmas.

This plan requires a deposit of 1c the first week, 2c the second week, 3c the third, and increases the amount 1c each week. On December 13th, 1921, there will be due you $12.75 with interest.

Deposit 2c the first week, 4c the next week, 6c the third week and increase the deposit 2c each week and we will pay you $25.50 with interest next Christmas.

This plan requires a deposit of 2c the first week, 4c the second week, 6c the third week, and increases the amount by 2c each week. On December 13th, 1921, there will be due you $25.50 with interest.

Deposit 5c the First Week and Increase the Deposit 5c Per Week and We Will Pay You $63.75 With Interest Next Christmas.

This plan requires a deposit of 5c the first week, 10c the second week and increases the amount by 5c each week. On December 13th, 1921, there will be due you $63.75 with interest.

The three plans mentioned are merely suggestions. You may reverse them if you wish, that is $2.50, $1.00 or 50c may be paid in the first week and reduced 5c, 2c or 1c a week until the end of the fifty weeks.

Or here's another plan: $5.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.00, 50c, 25c or 10c may be paid in each week without reduction or increase for the fifty weeks if desired.

Interest will be paid on deposits if the payments are kept up promptly, but if depositor fails to keep up payments when due, you will receive amount paid in only, without interest.

Member's tickets issued to each depositor without cost.

The Christmas Savings Club is the one club, that all members of your family, large and small, can join.

When you join, take out a card for the boy and girl, too. This is a nest egg to ease care and will come in mighty handy for a rainy day.

The small weekly or monthly payments don't amount to very much and are never missed. Surprising how much it comes to by Christmas Holidays, and a pleasant surprise, too. Come with others and join; the club opens for membership Monday morning, Dec. 27th, at 9 o'clock. The earlier you join the easier it will be. Hundreds will join the first day. Get in line for a Merry Christmas. The easiest way in the world to provide Christmas cheer for you and yours.

Your Christmas Check From This Bank You May Cash Anywhere. It Will Be Delivered at Your Door By Uncle Sam

NOTE:

Some $48,000 were distributed to members of last year's Christmas Savings Club. We wish it could have been $100,000 so that the added cheer the increase amount would have brought about could have been spread broadcast. Present indications point toward a much larger membership this year and it is quite possible that the $100,000 mark will be reached.
